Golden Supper Bake

When minutes count, self-rising corn meal comes to the rescue in this quick Golden Supper Bake. Beneath its tender golden corn meal topping is a tuna or chicken base. Creamy mushroom and green pea sauce tops each bite, placing Golden Supper Bake in the class of the popular one-dish entrees.
The corn meal topping has a light souffle-like texture created by using three well-beaten eggs in the batter then beating in more airy lightness with the other ingredients. Baking puffs the topping and turns it a golden brown.
Because the leavening and salt are already blended into the self-rising corn meal and flour, no pre-mixing of these ingredients is needed. Enriched with thiamine, iron and calcium, all self-rising products also lend important nutritional benefits to baked foods.

GOLDEN SUPPER BAKE

1 7-ounce can tuna or salmon or 1 6-ounce can boned cooked chicken (about 1 cup)	½ cup enriched self-rising corn meal
3 eggs	½ cup sifted enriched self-rising flour
1 cup milk	1 teaspoon celery seed
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine	Mushroom Sauce

Spread tuna evenly in well-greased 8-inch round pan. Beat eggs until foamy. Add milk and butter or margarine. Mix well. Add corn meal, flour and celery seed, beating with rotary beater until smooth. Pour over tuna. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.), 45 to 55 minutes or until golden brown. Cut into pie-shaped wedges. Serve immediately with Mushroom Sauce.
Mushroom Sauce
To prepare, stir one 10½-ounce can condensed cream of mushroom soup until smooth. Stir in 1 cup cooked peas (8-ounce can or half of 10-ounce package frozen), ½ cup milk and ¼ teaspoon curry powder. Heat to serving temperature.
Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Town Councilman Almond Resigns; Guill Elected In Special Meeting

The town council met Monday night, June 18, in the Mayor's office.
A letter of resignation from Councilman J. T. Almond was read and regretfully accepted by council. Mr. Almond has served the town for many years as a councilman and has contributed much to the growth of Appomattox by his wise councilmanship and unselfish devotion to his responsibilities to the town and its citizens. As Mayor I am proud to have served with such a gentleman as Mr. Almond.
At a special meeting Tuesday of this week the council met and elected Mr. Burke Guill to fill the unexpired term of Mr. Almond.
The water and Sewage committee reported to council and recommended that council accept the low bid of $650 from Dominion Tank Company on cleaning and painting the town water tank on the Southside of Appomattox. The council accepted and passed the recommendation of the committee.
For some time now council has been discussing and making preliminary plans for the possible construction of a new sewage disposal plant. Members of the Council and the Mayor will meet in a Special session at 1 p.m. Tuesday, June 26,h to visit several types of disposal plants in the area of Lynchburg and Madison Heights.
No parking signs are being installed on the east side of Church Street from Highland Avenue to Confederate Blvd. Please note that there will be no parking on this side of the street from 6 p.m. to 6 a.m. This ordiance was passed with the idea that it will relieve the congestion caused by parking on both sides of the street making it almost impossible for the flow of two way traffic during special events that take place in the area. We also hope by enforcing this ordiance we will eliminate possible accidents, as well as being a safety factor.
Once again I want to urge each person that uses our sidewalks and rides our streets to please don't throw their trash out, but take the time to place any rubbish and trash in the conviently located trash receptacles.
It's costing the taxpayers of Appomattox many hundreds of dollars each year to have our streets cleared of the trash that we carelessly throw down on our streets and sidewalks.
Other routine business was discussed and disposed of.
Respectfully,
S. R. Lawson,
Mayor

Food, Cars Lead Spending In Appomattox County

(Special to The Times-Virginian)
New York, June 25.- Food buying and automotive purchases paced the retail market in Appomattox County in the past year, as business activity regained its momentum.
The combination accounted for 50 cents of every dollar that was spent in local retail stores in 1961.
Elsewhere in the United States they attracted 42 cents, and in the South Atlantic States, also 42 cents.
This is one of the findings arrived at in a nationwide survey to determine how the consuming public has been distributing its money. It shows, for each locality, the amounts spent for food, clothing, for general merchandise and for the items in the family budget.
The results are contained in the annual market data report of the Standard Rate and Data Service, just released.
The breakdown shows that the housewives in Appomattox County spent freely for food, allotting 15 cents of their dollar for such purchases.
As a result, sales in local bakeries, vegetable store, butcher shops, supermarkets and other food emporia amounted to $985,000.
This refers solely to the food bought for home consumption. It does not include expenditures in restaurants and other eating and drinking placer.
If divided equally, these purchases would amount to $400 per household locally.
Market strength was exhibited, also, in the automotive field, where outlays for new and used cars, boats, motorcycles and related products came to $2,339,000, equivalent to 35 cents of the retail dollar.
The blazer spending this was down in the year benefitted most other establishments in the county as well.
Those handling general merchandise, such as variety and department stores, had a $404,000 volume, representing 8 cents.
Apparel shops, including those selling shoes and hats, accounted for $156,000, or over 2 cents.
Stores carrying furniture and other home furnishings grossed $80,000 equal to 1 cent.
Locally, and in most othe parts of the country, living standards rose in the year as more money was earned and more was spent.

The number receiving the degree is limited to 2 per cent of the active membership. This year's membership is 9697 in 174 chapters.
In addition to the honors conferred upon the active members, the State Association elected 13 Virginia adults to receive the Honorary State Farmer Degree. Driver's License Cost to Increase

RICHMOND, Va. — The cost of obtaining a Virginia driver's license will be increased effective June 29, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, C. H. Lamb, announced today. Licenses issued on and after that date will cost the individual applicant $2.00 for an operator's license and $3.00 for a chauffeur's license, Mr. Lamb said.
The recent session of the General Assembly enacted legislation providing for this increase and directed that the additional funds thus collected be set aside to assist in the financing of driver education programs in the Virginia public school system, Lamb explained. The public can be of great assistance by submitting the proper fee with their applications and undue delay and inconvenience to the individual applicant can be avoided if each license application is accompanied by a correct remittance. Despite this increase, Virginia remains one of the lower priced driving license states.
